

Simple rules that observe only perfect mothers

<https://essaydoc.com/>

It is well known that babies do not come with instructions. Why? Because there are no two identical children. Even if they occur from one DNA. There are many children's books, but the main problem with them is that no one seems to have informed the babies that they should do that in the book. Babies are completely satisfied with the fact that they themselves set their own rules. However, when it comes to be a mom, there is a very definite list of rules. Only no one speaks. People recognize him for themselves at the time when they find out what to "do" with this child, whom they just gave birth, without leadership. And this is a completely new person with whom everyone needs to meet.

At the same time, at the moment when the parent world turns away from the legs on the head, it is expected that they will learn the rules of a good parent. In order to save young masses of the mass of time, reduce anxiety and errors, a list of the rules of "good mommy" was drawn up. Below are the advice of two opposites and sometimes the fact that the mother and the father should not do. Feed the child with the right food

"The chest is best", even when it causes significant stress at mom and child, it is always better. When women do it publicly, breastfeeding is bad, and it should be hidden so that people do not feel awkward due to the fact that "the most natural things in the world." At least the media want people to think so. In fact, when a woman feeds his breasts in public, in 99% of cases no one will have objections.

If for some reason it is decided to feed the mixture, be prepared to justify your solution and feel all the guilt. In no case in any case, this woman will not give tribute to accepting a conscious decision, because she is an adult who can do it. Of course, she must be ready for the fact that all future disadvantages of her child will be written off that it was fed with a mixture, including when he would not pass his first driving exam.

Turning away from dairy days by day, when it will be found that it really doesn't matter how to feed them, each mother should always feed the child only organic useful food. Beige food is bad. A good mother does not serve a beige food. All dishes should be presented in the form of emoticons or cute animals, to encourage your child's 100% organic couscous without additives, which you with love have prepared for him. Good luck in search of a child who will eat Couscous. Will never be good enough

Returning to the career, the creation of which Mom worked a lot, she will become a "part-time mom." The one who is selfish does not possess the needs of the child in the first place. Parents should spend 90% of their income to child care and work twice as many more than anyone else to prove their family commitment. Of course, they could donate holidays and food and stay at home. But this does not apply a good example of their child and will not show an example of solid labor ethics. The parents will also need to justify their existence and what they do every day. Delight every moment

Parents should enjoy every moment of upbringing. Because it passes so fast. If they do not enjoy sleepless nights, the mountains of washing, vomiting, feces, hysterics, whines and requests for children to wear shoes 39 times every morning, then they are abnormal! All others enjoy every second. Why not? What is wrong with these?

Do not increase the time behind the screen for children.

TV is bad. Only terrible parents allow children to watch TV. It does not matter that there are wonderful educational programs that contribute to the development and training of your child. TV is just bad. Never use it as a nanny so you can do everything else. It will correctly be enlisting the help of a child when cleaning the kitchen. They gladly wash the floor and will not try to make all the contents of the cabinets. If there is a child in the family, just do the house while the child is sleeping.
